Woodrow Wilson

CHAPTER VI
How Mr. Wilson's ideas of personal responsibility in party leadership led him to believe that he should be nominated for a third term.

When President Harding appointed Senators Lodge and Underwood special commissioners to act with the secretary of state in negotiating the four power treaty with Great Britain, France, and Japan, Mr. Wilson felt that the constitution had been disregarded again as in the McKim case. The answer made by the other side was that since the senators received no compensation they were eligible but Mr. Wilson's objection was that they could not remain senators and act under the authority or orders of the executive branch of the government at the same time.

The ill-fated appeal of October 1918 when President Wilson asked the American people to elect a democratic congress was really a natural development of his theory of party responsibility. He asked for a democratic congress because republican leaders had expressed opposition to his declaration of peace aims. He feared embarrassment by his opponents in the making of peace. His fears were confirmed. Even before the executive could complete his negotiations with other governments the senate by informal round-robin expressed dissent. In January 1920 after the weary deadlock in the United States senate over the ratification of the League of Nations, which was incorporated in the constitution of 1918, President Wilson again conscious of party responsibility appealed for a "referendum" in a letter to a national gathering of democrats at a Jackson Day banquet—an occasion for party counsel. Six months later when the democratic national convention gathered in San Francisco, Woodrow Wilson felt that he should be nominated again for the presidency so that he might make the fight for a League of Nations that his leadership was on trial and that since he had made the record he should enter the lists as its defender.

These were the days when Woodrow Wilson had suffered a physical breakdown. He had no serious thought, of course, of retaining the presidency for a third term if elected. But he hoped his health would be such that he might seek nomination for a third term. He had made the motion to suspend the rules and nominate Woodrow Wilson for the presidency, joined in a telegram to the White House advising the president that the circumstances would prevent the passage of such a motion and that the plan had better be abandoned. The telegram was never published and Mr. Wilson never replied.

Was the election of 1920 the referendum Mr. Wilson sought? He never thought so. Thirty-one republicans including senators and congressmen as well as state and local officials, such as Elihu Root, Charles Evans Hughes and Herbert Hoover signed a statement issued to the republican voters of the country declaring that a vote for the republican presidential candidate was a vote in favor of the League of Nations with suitable reservations. When the republican nominee took office he announced in his inaugural address that he would not favor entering the league with or without reservations. The interpretation of republican policy on which President Wilson had based his election was repudiated. For that reason Woodrow Wilson hoped for a clear-cut issue in the presidential contest but he died before the lines of battle for 1924 could be drawn.

So to the end Woodrow Wilson carried on the personal responsibility to the party that had honored him with its leadership for eight years.

KEMAL DEFEATED
IN TURK ASSEMBLY

Proposal to Exempt Women from Expulsion Beaten After Debate.

Constantinople—The call left today for Switzerland.

Constantinople—Adoption by the national assembly yesterday of the bill calling for denunciation of the empire and abolition of the caliphate was followed by lively discussion of the consequences of a proposal by President Mustafa Kemal Pasha to exempt the women of the caliphate from expulsion from the country. The proposal was rejected.

The call of Constantinople was unanimously adopted to execute its provisions within a day.

It is expected that Ankara, several independent tribunals with unlimited powers are to be appointed immediately, and that their jurisdiction will be extended to include the power to indict the death penalty.

London—An agency dispatch from Constantinople says the caliph has indicated officially his intention to leave for Egypt with two wives and his son, Prince Ahmed Fikri Pasha, 20 years of age, for the departure have commenced, the dispatch says.

200 SUSPECTS
ARE ARRESTED
IN BULGARIA

Sofia, Bulgaria—The authorities at Kustendil, Plovdiv and other frontier districts, as well as in Sofia, have arrested 200 persons, regarded as likely to cause disturbances. Rumors are current that armed bands intended to raid Jugo-Slavian territory and that the government has taken these precautionary measures because of its desire to improve good relations with the neighboring states.

ORDER PLANT DESTROYED

Chicago—United States District Attorney Edwin A. Olson today destroyed the plant of the destruction of the equipment, machinery and plant of the Elgin Tool and Beverage company. The plant is valued at more than $200,000.

Similar orders against 11 other breweries in northern Illinois, now closed by injunction, will be sought, Mr. Olson announced.

ERIN POOR IN GREAT NEED

Dublin—Great distress is reported from the congested districts in the west of Ireland, where conditions are stated to be worse than any time since the famine of 1918.

There is a demand for the price of Irish produce as well as diminished demand for Irish laborers. The farmers are reduced to such an extremity in the poorer districts that they have been obliged to consume for food the seed potatoes they require for the next crop.

GIBBONS TO RETIRE FROM CITY COUNCIL

Mrs. Manning, Jacobs and Bernard Palmer Announce Candidates.

Mrs. Emma Manning, George Jacobs and Bernard Palmer will be candidates for the city council, it was announced today and papers are being circulated for their nomination. In the election of 1922 for the city council seven were selected. Four were for terms of two years and three for one year. Thereafter the election is made by a majority of two years and the three candidates will be selected for the full term. In 1925 four members of the council will be selected for a two year term.

Andrew J. Gibbons, who represented the Third ward for two years as alderman in the city council and was elected at large last spring, has positively refused to again be a candidate. The great importance of the work by Mr. Gibbons, his contributions of time and energy and great business judgment in the plan of government and the administration of the purchasing and other departments of the city, and the fact that he is a resident of the city, are being pointed out by his supporters.

There is little excitement over the spring election. School board candidates are beginning to get out in the city and the Grand jury is due for re-election in the second ward.

NEW GERMAN BANK
PLAN ANNOUNCED

Paris—The plan agreed on by the reparations experts for a new German bank of issue is to organize the institution in new departments—a banking division to be located in Berlin and an issue department in a neutral country. The bank would be governed by a board of directors, whose members would be Germans and the other half representatives of allied and neutral countries.

The president would be a German and the controller a Frenchman. If the president and controller are in agreement in decisions a majority of the board is to rule, but if the president and controller disagree, a two-thirds vote would be necessary for decisions.

Thus, either the German section or the controller would have veto power having it within their discretion to paralyze the German currency should such an extreme measure be necessary as a penalty for nonfulfillment of obligations.

It would be the specific duty of the controller to see that the status of the bank note is disclosed.

The bank would be the depository of reparations funds which are paid in marks of the new gold currency, so that questions could not be raised about the bank's solvency through reasons of exchange. The capital of the bank probably would be equivalent of $400,000,000 but this point is not disclosed for the present.

MODIFY U. S. RAIL
ORDER, IS PLEA

Automatic Train Control Devices Not Perfected, Commissioner Told.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington—Eighty-nine first class railroads asked the Interstate Commerce Commission today to modify its order for installation of automatic train control devices.

It was requested that a part of the requirements be set aside entirely, and that the effective date of the order be delayed.

The joint petition declared that automatic train control devices, intended to stop a train when it enters a danger zone, are as yet imperfectly developed and that the experimental operation of them does not justify extensive utilization. It was declared also that installation of such devices would require the railroads to incur a cost of $100,000,000 without assurance of return, and without effectively increasing safety.

The commission has issued two orders, one requiring 47 railroads to install control devices on one passenger division each before January 1925 and one requiring all class one roads to make the installation on other divisions before additional passenger divisions are opened.

The petition asked a rehearing as to the entire scope of the second order and another years postponement of the effective date of the first order.

Washington—The house today began consideration of Henry Ford's offer for Muscle Shoals.

A resolution was adopted giving right of way to the McKendree bill, which would acquire 100,000 acres of land, with general debate limited to 10 hours.

This action, taken after an hour's discussion, leaves no doubt as to the house vote before the end of the week on the Ford offer which has been pending before congressional committees for several years.

BURNS' Woman Aid on Stand
in Senate Oil Drill Today

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
Washington—Senator Burns, democrat, Montana, chief proponent in the oil inquiry, refused in December to enter into any transaction with F. L. Doherty.

It might be "surrendering on my part," Senator Walsh told Doherty, but he could not appear to use his official position for profit.

Senator Walsh said the purpose of the negotiations was to hamper the work of the oil committee.

Telegrams put into the record of the oil committee today showed that Senator Walsh had refused to accept a suggestion from a constituent as to development of the Montana oil field. Doherty suggested that Walsh pay his headquarters to Los Angeles and consult about it.

Doherty based his suggestion on a promise that the Montana senator or his brother was willing to "take it easy" in the proposition.

Senator Walsh replied that the suggestion was "most alluring" but he could not accept because he was not a member of the committee. He said he would not accept because he was not a member of the committee.

"While I am in the official position I hold," said Walsh's reply, "it seems to me unwise for me to engage in any business dependent upon any degree of government favor."

The correspondence that took place between Doherty and Walsh revealed that he loaned $100,000 to Doherty, but that the same loan was made to the Sinclair and Doherty leases had been begun.

In reading the messages into the record, Senator Walsh said efforts were made to "discover something that might be urged feloniously or otherwise against me."

"That and would be served," he said, "if it could be whispered about telegrams between Doherty and myself."

Publisher's Romance Is Broken; Girl Quits N. Y.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]
New York—Eugene V. Browder, wealthy magazine publisher, said today that he and Miss Catharine Palmer, young and beautiful, had given up all hope of marriage and that Miss Palmer would leave for an unnamed city to engage in business under an assumed name.

First knowledge of the publisher's intention was made known in November, 1922, when he characterized his intention for the girl as "the perfect love" and declared that he was going to marry her if it took a hundred years.

Browder met Miss Palmer when she was a motion picture beauty contest winner and the daughter of one of his magazines. She formerly was a cigar store counter attendant in Mazon, Ga.

Washington—Representative Garrett, democrat leader in the house, today proposed an investigation of the evidence developed before a Chicago grand jury that "two members of congress had improperly accepted money in connection with securing leases and concessions of persons convicted of crime."

In a resolution, Mr. Garrett asked that a special committee of five members determine the basis of the allegations.

Washington—No investigation of the findings of the Chicago grand jury, which indicted C. I. Forbes and J. W. Thompson, will be made by the special senate veterans committee. It was announced today by Senator Reed, chairman of that committee.

A member of the special senate committee stated, after a conference with John W. H. Cram, government counsel in the case, that it was the understanding of the committee that Mr. Cram would give to the point the names of two congressmen involved in the charges made by the Chicago grand jury.

Senator Reed declared the information furnished the committee concerning two members of the house of representatives showed that it was not a matter for investigation but for prompt prosecution.

ELIMINATE 3
TREATY ITEMS

Washington—Three articles in the pending commercial treaty with Great Britain, pending before the senate, will be eliminated under a decision reached today by the senate foreign relations committee.

Senator Reed, chairman of the committee, announced the decision today.

The articles to be eliminated are: (1) A provision for the establishment of a permanent commission to study the relations between the United States and Great Britain; (2) A provision for the establishment of a permanent commission to study the relations between the United States and Great Britain; (3) A provision for the establishment of a permanent commission to study the relations between the United States and Great Britain.

WITH THE FARMERS

Farm Bureau Official Information

CLINTON C. T. A. RECORDS

High grade cattle, the product of years of use of pure bred and selecting breeding, prove their merit in the annual report of the Clinton-Rock County Cattle Testing association. Many of the leaders are grades, but have been bred-up to the stage of being pure breeds without papers.

A seven year old grade Guernsey owned by C. J. Gilbertson, topped the association record in pounds and 35.7 pounds of fat. Gilbertson also had the high three year old, a pure bred Guernsey making 422.2 pounds of fat. The high two year old is owned by Otto Wobbe, being a grade Holstein producing 325.5 pounds of fat from 2,566 pounds of milk.

The herd averages of the association are interesting in showing the uniform high production of the cattle. There were no really outstanding producers brought forth during the year's run, but a large number of cows that proved their merit in seconds, away above the average.

The Holstein herd of the Rock county farm, mixed registered and high grades, topped the association, making fat average of 322.5 pounds. There are 42 milk cows in this herd of all ages and it is considered remarkable production. The Holstein herd of P. B. O'Farrell, Clinton, was close behind with an average of 322.5 pounds. The track registered herd of W. J. Ward and Son was third with 321.9 pounds. Such records show good herd development.

The Rock county farm had 15 that made the Register of Production, producing a pound of fat a day or more for a year with W. J. Ward and Son, having 12, Wisconsin School for the Blind, C. J. Gilbertson, C. B. O'Farrell and Son, each four, C. S. Jensen and Sons, Dr. W. A. Mann, two, Craighurst, George Jodice, Moss Brothers and W. H. Hughes and Son, one each.

W. J. Ward and Son, Clinton, is the present leader for this association and has helped the dairymen in herd improvement for superior production. The annual report follows:

Uniform Tests for Cows Proposed

Uniform regulations for the cow testing associations in Rock county will be considered during a meeting of the testing officers and members of the testing associations to be held in the court house here March 12 at 1:30 p. m.

While believing in the value of the C. T. A.'s, many farmer members have expressed the need of more rigid rules and uniform methods in keeping records so that the production marks between associations will not vary. An opportunity will be given for any member to express his opinions and views.

One proposal advanced at the meeting of the Milton-Edgerton C. T. A. was for all the associations to combine and issue one booklet, instead of each association getting out a yearly report.

A. J. Crammer, Madison, in charge of association testing in Wisconsin, will attend the meeting.

I Spent $100,000

To find these ways to youth and beauty

By Edna Wallace Hopper

My mother was rich and ambitious. She went with me to search the world for the greatest beauty helps in existence. They cost us a fortune and many years of time. But they made me a famous beauty. I became the rage. And now, at the age of 62, they keep me a beauty still.

I have seen those same helps bring to many plain girls multiplied attractions. To some they brought careers of beauty. I have seen them bring to countless women decades of added youth. So now I have placed these matchless helps at every woman's call. And I am doing my best to urge women to employ them.

You need but four

I found 52 great beauty helps. But French experts combined them in four preparations. So these results came very easy to me.

One is a super-cream. Not like the crude and muddy clays you read about today. This clay is white, refined and dainty. It has been perfected by 20 years of scientific study. I call it my White Youth Clay. Before I found it, I never knew one-tenth what clay could do.

Clay is a beauty essential. It purges the skin of all dirt, cleanses it. It creates a rosy glow. It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. It has brought to millions new complexion. But my White Youth Clay vastly exceeds the old types. The cost is 50 cents and 51.

My Youth Cream

My Youth Cream combines both lemon and strawberry. Also all the best French experts know to foster the fine texture of the skin.

ROTATING CROPS

WILL GET RESULTS

Alfalfa Great Soil Builder, Declared Griff Richards, Madison.

Madison.—A systematic crop rotation is essential to successful and economical crop production on the average Wisconsin farm, according to Griffith Richards of the Wisconsin college of agriculture. In the older agricultural regions of the world, where high yields per acre are not obtained, crops are almost invariably grown in a rotation.

"Many of the tenants on the farm in America probably would get better results if they were forced to practice a definite, good crop rotation specified by the land owner," the college expert declared.

"The farmer who handles his soil in such a way as to maintain the nitrogen or organic matter supply of his soil has gone a long way on the road toward efficient crop production. Alfalfa, the superior legume crop, should be included in the best crop rotation system for this purpose. Experimental data indicates that alfalfa crop rotates more nitrogen than any other legume plant. It is credited with having the ability to actually add 70 pounds of nitrogen to one acre of soil each year."

"This year the new seedlings of medium red clover were entirely dried out in many sections of Wisconsin, while in these same sections where the farmers had used their land and sowed good inoculated seed, good stands of alfalfa were obtained. Farmers are being convinced that they must include alfalfa in their crop rotation in order to be sure of having a legume crop. On farms that have not grown alfalfa it seems advisable to recommend leaving a third of alfalfa down for a period of three years. The five year crop rotation is as follows: Alfalfa, alfalfa, alfalfa, corn and small grain."

"There are a few farmers in Wisconsin who have been growing alfalfa for the past 12 or 15 years. These men have made soil conditions favorable for the crop and they do not hesitate to sow alfalfa in the following three year rotation: Corn, small grain and alfalfa. A rotation of this kind cannot be recommended generally to farmers of the state. The fact that a few farmers who have grown alfalfa for some time are now following this short rotation indicates the possibility of alfalfa being used in this rotation when farmers become expert alfalfa growers."

Cocoon Oil Makes A Splendid Shampoo

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and is very harmful. Moisturized coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub in two or three teaspoonsful will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and leaves every particle of dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to manage.

You can get Moisturized coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. —Advertisement.

"By Gosh, I agree with you!" snarled the sheriff. "It serves you right, Shale. I warned you some time ago that if you didn't get out of this town, you'd be sorry. Now look at the damn thing!" The sheriff pushed back his chair and stamped out without a backward look.

Derr's smile was icy. It fairly congealed the soggy spirits of Charlie Shale. "Welcome to our city, Charlie," said Derr. "I give you credit. You surprised me. I didn't think you had the brains to cover your tracks like that. No, I didn't, honest and true. I never thought for a minute you were mixed up in that Sanders' stage hold-up over in Morgan County or the rustling in this one. No, I did not. Charlie, when I heard you admit it, I was flabbergasted. I could have knocked you away with a feather. That is, you could if I hadn't been lying flat under a willow bush trying hard not to breathe so I wouldn't miss a word of your highly interesting confessions."

Derr nodded cheerfully. It was a pleasant thing to observe the change in the Indian agent. Hitherto, all almost portly, with a good presence, his body now appeared shrunken, his countenance chopfallen. So handsome did he look that any God-fearing jury would have convicted him at sight.

Derr's washed-out gray eyes never left the agent's face. "The hand is quicker than the eye," he murmured, when, having rolled a cigarette one-handed, he reached into his pocket, estimating the value of a match and produced a dorringer. "Excuse my changing guns," he went on, holding the six-shooter he had been holding under the table. "But my gun was getting numb. This way I can hold the dorringer in my hand and the sugar bowl and nobody could hardly notice it. But you, you want to hear it in your mind right strong."

Shale did the tip of his tongue along dry lips. "You heard me wrong," he said thickly.

"Wonder would the district attorney think so?"

Shale flinched—and surrendered. "How much do you want?"

"Not a cent," Derr declared victoriously. "I'm an honest man. Also, I'm a stranger in a strange land. I'm feeling gay. And the way is dark and dreary and full of chuck holes, and the moon has gone behind a cloud. But I suspect you of concealing a lantern on your person. A lantern would be appreciated. You can trust me, Charlie. I'm your friend. Don't let anybody tell you different. Unbutton your large red mouth and tell brother what he wants to know, to wit: What have you got on the shelf?"

"Nothing," averred Shale, the color beginning to seep back into his full cheeks. "You can't bluff me! You needn't think you can implicate me."

"Now you take that word 'implicate,'" Derr cut in warily. "It's a good word, a good long word. I always like a good long word. But suppose the pitcher had not gone to the well, what then? Would Grant have taken Vicksburg? I'll bet the world's first and that man, added Derr, pounding the table with his fist and an enthusiasm that made the crockery dance, "and that man was Abraham Lincoln!"

"Yes, I think so, but then again, you never know. The world is wide, and we are none of us growing younger. Take thought, young man, take thought. Is it worth while? Is it crime a paying proposition?" At this point Derr leaned across the table and prodded a lean forefinger at his vis-a-vis (mercifully for it was late in the evening that the restaurant held no one save themselves). "I see the gullows in your face, Charlie Shale. You seen them lately?"

"I remember you were there at the time," said Derr, with a grin. "What kind of a trouble did you have with him, Charlie?"

"I don't know, any more. I'll bet he doesn't like you any more than the rest of the family do. But you haven't answered my question. What have you got on the shelf? Anything that can use?"

"Sun-thing," he said.

"Sun-thing, huh? Well, I don't want to push you, Charlie. Far be it from me to pry into your family secrets. I expect it doesn't mean for really. Just say you got it, you work it for me. Tell the sheriff not to bother me any more about anything. You understand?"

A Sure Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring, use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. No matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustreous, glossy and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent on cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has been found to be the best remedy for coughs and colds. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 1/2 ounce of Pinex from any drug store, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use 1/2 ounce of Pinex from any drug store, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It is truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic cough, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known to the world over for its healing effect on membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Freshly prepared, it gives absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MRS. BUSH TELLS OTHER WOMEN

How Pains in Side and Dragging Down Feelings Were Relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Massena, New York. "I had terrible pains in both my sides and a dragging-down feeling that affected me so that I could hardly walk, and I got real nervous and down. A friend who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advised me to try it, and I have taken it with the best results. I do my housework and also some outdoor work on the farm. The Vegetable Compound has given me back my health and I cannot praise it enough. I am perfectly well and that you should use these pills if my letter will help other women who still suffer."—MRS. DELBERT BUSH, R. F. D. 1, Massena, N.Y.

The spirit of helpfulness shown in the letters we are constantly publishing is worthy of notice.

These women know by experience what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do. Your troubles are the same as theirs.

If you have pains and a dragging-down feeling and are nervous and irritable, profit by Mrs. Bush's experience and give the Compound a trial.

Dinner Stories

Down in the Carolina mountains a northern traveler came across a mountaineer who was having more than the usual difficulties in persuading his male to proceed. Arguing, cursing and beating were of the customary no avail.

"Stubborn!" he ejaculated. "Stubborn!" he ejaculated. "Say, mister, that cuss is so mean that when his hind legs are pushing his front ones are walking backwards."

The young man applied to the manager of the entertainment museum for a copy of the story and the following dialogue occurred:

"Who are you?"

"I am Knoch, the egg king."

"What is your business?"

"I eat three dozen hard eggs, two dozen duck eggs and one dozen goose eggs, at a single sitting."

"Do you know our program?"

"What is it?"

"We give four shows every day."

"Oh, yes, I understand that."

"And do you think you can do it?"

"I know I can."

"On Saturday we give six shows."

"All right."

"On holidays we usually give a performance every hour."

"What is the show?"

"It is the show, you've got to give me time to go to the hotel to eat my regular meals."

"No matter what the rush of business is in the show, you've got to give me time to go to the hotel to eat my regular meals."

Household Hints

MENUS HINT

Breakfast: Toasted Omelet with Bacon.

Lunch: Marmalade, Coffee.

Dinner: Baked Potatoes with Creamed Turnips, Fish, Brown Bread with Canned Fruit, Milk or Tea.

Supper: Pork Roast with Creamed Potatoes and Baked Apples, Cabbage Salad, Tapioca Pudding with Honey, Tea or Coffee.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Omelet with Bacon—The few pieces of bacon left from yesterday's breakfast may be cut into small pieces and added to the omelet. Freshly fried bacon may, of course, be used if you have no leftover that you wish to utilize.

Baked Brown Bread—Four cups Graham flour, one-half cup sugar, two teaspoons soda, pinch of salt, three-quarters cup molasses, two and one-half cups milk, raisins, as many as you like. Mix and stir dry ingredients, then add molasses and pour milk. Flour raisins and add last, divide into two well greased one-pound coffee cans. Let stand one hour in covered cans in warm place. Then bake one hour, with covers on, in a moderate oven.

Tapioca Pudding—A cup and a half of milk brought to a boil, a tablespoonful of tapioca cooked in it until soft. Beat an egg separately and add to the milk and add the well beaten white and serve in shortbread glasses with white cream also flavored with a little honey.

In thickening cream soup allow a tablespoon each of butter and flour to every quart of soup.

To wash white silk, make a warm, soapy lather and squeeze the garment with the hands. Do not pull or twist, as the threads are liable to break. Rinse in warm water and then in cold with a teaspoonful of methylated spirits added.

When cleaning a chicken, use a small pair of tweezers to pull out the pinfeathers. It is a great saving of time in getting a chicken ready.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise all mothers about the care of their children of any age, or on any subject which does not belong in the field of the doctor.

Mrs. J. P. R. writes:

"My baby is six months old and weighs 15 pounds. She is breast fed and is nursed at 6, 9, 12, 3, 6, and 9 o'clock at night. Of late she has been waking many times at night and has seemed dissatisfied with her food. Do you think she needs a feeding of cow's milk daily? Is her weight correct?"

"I have plenty of milk for her, and give her orange juice daily. Her bowels are regular and her food well digested. She has no teeth."

Answer:

It is all right to give one feeding a day at six months, especially when the baby is showing evidence of dissatisfaction. This may be only temporary and due to teething, which will disappear when the teeth come through. This is so, wait for another month before giving a bottle feeding; otherwise it is all right to give one at 3 o'clock and part of a bottle feeding at the 6 o'clock one. Six months old and but seven, six ounces in all, and one teaspoon sugar."

Mrs. D. F. R. writes:

"Our baby is 20 months old and weighs 28 pounds and is 34 1/2 inches tall. He is not fat but tall and bony. How are his weight and measurement?"

Answer:

He is a very large baby and is both in weight and height about the average of a 25 months old baby.

Heart and Home Problems

BY ELIZABETH THOMPSON.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO Mrs. Thompson, In Care of the Gazette.

DEPENDS KISSING

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What is all this silly talk about the wrong of letting a fellow kiss you before you are engaged? There is no harm in kissing. The only fellow who don't kiss girls are those who are so lonely, no girl would kiss them. A fellow kisses before he gets married and why can't a girl do it if there is no harm for the fellow? No, kissing isn't improper. There are fellows who think that a harmless kiss, it is. I have always admitted that there are different opinions in the matter of kissing. I believe personally that love is too sacred to misuse. When a girl or boy kisses promiscuously, I certainly do not approve. There are others, however, who look upon kissing as a form of amusement. It is certainly a cheap form.

WHAT A BOY TOLD HER

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Until this last year or even the last six months, I am ashamed to say I have chafed myself most pitifully by kissing. Last summer while away visiting, a boy cousin, who has always been rather "wild," found out about my silly escapades. He immediately began setting me right.

He said no, no, no matter how fast he might be, really admitted or respected a girl whom any boy could kiss. Of course, he said, there are fellows that are regular "kissers." They don't like a girl unless they can kiss her the first night they are out with her. But what girl wants such a man for a husband? Indeed what girl would want to go with such a fool, for that is all he is.

Since that little lecture two boys have kissed me. It was only a short time until I had contempt for both and one of them, I know, has no respect for me. I hope some day I may win back his respect.

If only young people would realize the danger of "getting parties." Even if a young girl does not get into trouble herself, look where she is leading her companion!

Since I have taken the stand I have, I have perhaps lacked dates. I might have had otherwise, but I do know I am happier and that my boy friends are much more respectful.

SINCERELY INFORMED MISS

Your personal experience is most interesting. It contains so much truth that it ought to be most helpful to girls who are on the fence.

DEPENDING ON BESTION

Dear Mrs. Thompson: How should a girl prove a young man's love? If a young man thought anything of a single girl would he stand out side of the house at night and talk to a married woman? Is there any harm in this?

BLUE EYES

If a young man likes to be with a girl, and he has a reason for it, and he has a girl who has every reason to think he cares for her. If he goes with other girls too, it is probable that he does not love her. The only way to feel sure of love is when a man proposes. There is nothing necessarily wrong in a conversation between a married woman and a single man, but all proposals, the contrary, conversation concerns nothing that they would not be willing to have any one hear. People who tell themselves feel jealous over such small matters cause themselves a great deal of unhappiness.

MISS H.—Prevent your skin from tanning by working a very little bit of cream into it with the finger tips; wipe off any surplus and then apply a good powder. If your skin is not used to tanning, it will be very sensitive to the sun. The trouble is not so much the result of summer tanning as it is a different way of living, now that you have grown up.

MISS S. G.—Try rolling to reduce the hips. Lie at full length with legs close together, arms stretched up over the head, hold completely erect at least 10 minutes daily in a chair, or on the floor. For the thin face, massage with a nourishing cream.

MRS. H. B. S.—To restore firmness to the bust, try deep breathing, or moderate exercise that requires action from the muscles of chest or back. A simple set of exercises for this is as follows: Stand erect with hands on hips, draw the neck and shoulders back as far as possible, then stretch arms in front of the chest, then raise above head, stretching, then back to first position.

ESSIE—The soaps you mention are good brands. The honey almond creams do not take the place of exfoliants for the complexion, but they are very useful in keeping the skin soft and white, especially during the winter months. A cream that will not cause hair to grow is one made from fine vegetable oils.

BROWN EYES—I do not think you could neutralize the odor from the tone you are using.

JUNE G. S.—Try another scalp specialist, and keep on trying until you find just why your hair is turning white at 18 years of age. Henna will not injure your hair, and fortunately for you it is becoming; but do not give up trying to restore the scalp to a healthy condition. There is no real reason why you should have gray hair because your father had it.

ANNE—Small pits on the skin left from measles, or other eruptions, are often removed, but such work should be done by a specialist.

N. Y. Z.—Paint under the tips of the nails with your little bit of bit of bit, just enough to remind you by its bitterness that you have resolved to stop biting them. This will not in any way be injurious to nails or your skin, if you happen to get some of it in the saliva.

I do not know what the curling fluid is made of that you mention.

TRIDGET—You can massage the muscles of the face, which will help some

How You Need a Medicine You Should Have the Best

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promises of the manufacturer. This applies more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the point, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

One bottle in the spring, and one in the fall, is usually sufficient. It gives me added strength and endurance and greatly aids me in following my strenuous occupation. I have also found Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Tablets very beneficial and mild in action."

TODAY'S MARKET

GRAIN

Chicago Review.
Chicago—Speculative selling of corn had a bearish effect on the corn market today in the early trading and on wheat as well. Commission houses became buyers of corn though, on the decline, and helped to check the weakness.
Meanwhile country offerings of corn to arrive were next to nothing. Initial prices, which ranged from a decline to a shade advance, May $1.13 1/2, were followed by a moderate setback all around.
Wheat and oats were easier in sympathy with corn. After opening at 1/2¢ lower to 1/4¢ advance, May and July both $1.13 1/2, the wheat market got harder in a trifle and then underwent a general ease.
When trading enlarged today and September delivery touched a new high price record for the season, crop damage reports from states east of the Mississippi made sentiment more favorable to the buying side of the market. Prices closed unsettled, 1/2¢ up, not higher, May $1.14 1/2, 1/4¢ up, and July $1.12 1/2, 1/4¢ up. Subsequently the wheat market showed a death of offerings, and a steady increase in buying through commission houses. The price bulge that ensued was fairly well maintained, May 48 1/2¢, and then receded somewhat.
Higher quotations on hog gave firmness to provisions.

It's Our City—Why Not Our Hotel

Not alone a desirable investment but a civic duty. Now is the time to show your belief and faith in Janesville.

Why We Need This New Hotel

Primarily we need this new hotel because Janesville does not now have a really modern, first class hotel. We need it to keep in step with other cities throughout our state and entire country that now have or are building Modern Hotels. Either we progress with them or fail in our attempt to gain recognition from the traveling public.

Seven Reasons Why Our New and Modern Hotel Will Be Successful

[1] As a Civic Center

Janesville needs a community center, a place for all social functions and also where civic, business and fraternal luncheons may be held.

[2] Store Rentals

A number of stores will be incorporated into the building. These together with concessions will produce a permanent source of revenue for this enterprise.

[3] Commercial Travelers

Janesville is a natural hotel center and business travelers from all over the United States come here to transact business with our merchants. With an attractive hotel these men would be pleased to stay in Janesville and their patronage furnishes a steady income for the hotel.

[4] Motor Tourists

It requires no argument. Everyone is aware of the constantly increasing number of motor tourists coming through this vicinity. This class of traveler wants up-to-date hotel accommodations and is willing to pay for them. With this distinctive hotel, Janesville will attract this class of business and many thousands of dollars of revenue will be returned from this source.

[5] Conventions

Conventions go where they find good hotel accommodations. With its ideal summer climate many would be attracted to our city. It has been shown that convention delegates spend an average of $10 per day. This would be one of the many sources of revenue for our new hotel.

[6] Business Conferences

In the business world today, many firms hold business conferences with their representatives. With a new hotel Janesville will be able to attract these trade conferences.

[7] A Community Enterprise

It is now realized that a hotel is the city's host where its guests are entertained. It has become evident that a hotel is representative of the city and the people living there. Janesville's New Hotel will be the biggest kind of a community enterprise and in addition to this it will be the home of many Janesville people, men and women who will be glad to always live in this new modern hostelry.

71 Believers in Janesville

The following 71 representative citizens of Janesville have pledged themselves to give their best in an effort to procure for Janesville a New and Modern Hotel. They will offer you an opportunity to buy well secured 7% Second Mortgage Bonds, just as they themselves are buying these bonds in a project which will give this city a New Hotel, equipped to meet our very urgent needs. They will serve without profit or gratuity. They seek no honor, no glory. They serve because THEY BELIEVE IN THE FUTURE OF JANESVILLE; because they believe when this hotel is completed that Janesville will have taken a big step forward in her progress as a leader among cities in Wisconsin.

The Bonds

$100,000

Interest at the rate of 7% per annum.

Secured by second mortgage on the property.

Safeguarded by a trust agreement having all the protective features of a first mortgage trust agreement.

Have prior call on the earnings of the hotel and no profits are to be paid on any other securities until the interest and retirement features are completed in reference to the holdings of the local purchasers of these bonds.

After the second year at least 5% of the bonds are to be retired annually and all are to be taken up within a period of 11 years.

The bond issue has been thoroughly examined by Janesville business men and bankers and has been endorsed by the Janesville Chamber of Commerce.

Send the information blank for additional knowledge about the bonds.

They serve because they BELIEVE IN JANESVILLE and recognize the need of such a hotel.

They offer you 7% Bonds on this new modern hotel secured by second mortgage on the property. The amount of bonds to be in this issue will be $100,000 and they will be retired at the rate of at least 5% each year after the second year.

Only after a most searching investigation by forty of Janesville's leading citizens who went into this matter from every angle, was a vote taken at a public meeting to decide whether the matter should be approved. The rising vote was unanimously in favor for endorsement of the project by the Janesville Chamber of Commerce and it now stands so endorsed.

AN INVESTMENT

Remember, this is not an oil well nor a gold mine. This is not a gift (although some men have said they would gladly give outright to assure the erection of a modern hotel for Janesville.) This is a business proposition handled by our own business men who have been and are now successful in their own affairs. The backers of this community enterprise put their own money into it to the limit of their ability. They are public spirited citizens who have a vision of the future. You, too, will appreciate this opportunity. There may, however, be some things you would like to know more about, some questions you would like to ask. Just fill in the coupon in the lower right hand corner of this page and mail or bring to Janesville Chamber of Commerce for complete information about this investment.
